KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

Prominent Part of Uniform Rank in Encampment at Louisville.

EVERY COMPANY IN KENTUCKY TO BE REPRESENTED.

Kentucky now has twenty-three companies of the Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, which will play a prominent part in the Biennial Encampment festivities at Louisville next August. Three companies have been organized within the past few weeks, and two of these are yet to be mustered in—the Manchester and Butler companies. Evergreen Company, No. 27, of Hopkinsville, the third one, has recently completed its election of officers.

Every company in Kentucky will assign men to escort duty on the parade, review and escort committee, under the chairmanship of Charles B. Norton, during the August meeting. Each incoming delegation of Pythians will be met at the railroad station and escorted to camp or other locations where the visitors will find quarters.

While the finance committee of the Biennial association is collecting funds for the entertainment of Louisville guests, the executive committee is now taking up various contracts connected with the encampment. It is estimated that there will be not less than 15,000 Knights in camp, probably 5,000 more finding quarters in other localities, included in the request for bids on camp equipment are named pillows and pillow slips, pads for the cots of the campers, tinware and soap and candles. The latter will be used inside the tents. Excellent arrangements will be made for the lighting of the camp treets by electricity.

Fire at Hecla.

Sunday night between 11 and 12 o'clock a fire originated in the dwelling of Press Scott, col., of Hecla, and consumed six residences four of them owned by Jim Alexander, of Madisonville, and the other two by Dr. Gardner were consumed. The fire was well under way when discovered and it was impossible to extinguish it although a brave effort was made to do so. One of the houses was occupied by John Knox, another by Leander Groves and the remainder were occupied by colored people. The property of the household goods saved with the exception of the first house to burn and there was too far gone when removed to remove any of the contents. The origin of the fire known. Parties living in use where the fire started there had been no fire since one o'clock on Sunday. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

Caused by Buggy Shaft.

A small man by name of Mitchell lives in the Nebo neighborhood. He was painfully injured while attending Olive Branch church near Hecla Sunday. It seems he was standing among some bushes and two of them going in opposite directions. The unfortunate man was caught between them and one of the shafts entered his abdomen, making a severe wound, which may prove fatal.

London papers report a "successful rat show" at Cheltenham. Successful rats must be scarce in England.

Coenen-Barbero.

Miss Annie Coenen and Mr. Omer C. Barbero were united in matrimony Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock at the church of Immaculate Conception in the presence of a large number of friends and acquaintances.

The ceremony was performed in a very impressive manner by Rev. A. M. Coenen, an uncle of the charming bride. After the ceremony a reception was given at the home of the bride's parents where quite a number of the bride and bridegroom's friends feasted and made merry. Miss Coenen is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Coenen and is one among the nicest and most popular young ladies of the city. Mr. Barbero is a rising young railroad man in the employ of the L. & N., who has many friends during his residence here and who stands high in the estimation of the officials. The bride wore an elegant French lawn dress trimmed in Valenciennes lace and carried a pearl studded prayer book. The handsome groom wore the regulation suit of black. The happy couple went to Nashville and will spend their honeymoon on the farm of the groom's father a few miles from that city. Their many friends wish them a long and prosperous life in their new relations.

Raw Egg a Tonic.

A raw egg is an excellent tonic and is very strengthening. If prepared in the following way it is really a delicious drink. Put the yolk of an egg into a dish with a teaspoonful of orange or lemon juice and beat lightly together with a fork. Put the whites on a plate and add a pinch of salt; then, with a broad-blade knife, beat it to a stiff froth. Now, as lightly as possible mix all together in the dish, then as lightly transfer it to a clean tumbler, which it will nearly fill if properly made. It must not stand in a warm place, as it soon becomes liquid and loses its snowy look. Any fruit juice may be used in place of orange or lemon.

Cure for Milk Fever in Cattle Found.

Dr. Anderson Garth, the veterinary surgeon of Trenton Ky., has discovered a treatment for milk fever in cattle which he believes to be a sure cure. On Saturday Dr. Garth was called to see a fine cow that had been down for six hours and nearly dead. He took a bicycle pump, and inserted the tube in a teat, pumped the udder full of air. In less than an hour the animal was up and grazing and is now well. This is the first and only cure of the disease known to cattle breeders in this section of the state.

Team Ran Away.

One of the teams belonging to Barnhill's stable at Madisonville became frightened at the train last Friday and in their frantic endeavor to get away from it ran madly down railroad street dashed into DeVilbiss' delivery wagon upsetting it. The team was driven by Mr. Fritchett, of Madisonville. No one was injured.

By order of PAUL P. PRICE,
Captain Commanding Company.

Bad Smash at Danville—Fourth Wreck Within the Past Month.

The fourth wreck that has occurred within the past month on the Cincinnati Southern Railway, and within a mile of the Danville depot, occurred Monday afternoon, freight train, No. 46, running at the rate of thirty miles an hour, and one engine and eight box cars were smashed to pieces. The engineer and fireman on the ill-fated engine stayed with their engine and came out of the wreck with but few bruises. It is a miracle that they were not killed. The engine jumped the track, tore through a box car and ran half way down an embankment. Fortunately for the engineer and fireman, it did not upset.

RAISED CAIN

At Olive Branch Church Last Sunday Special Session of Grand Jury to Act in Matter.

It is reported that the conduct of some people at Olive Branch church near Hanson Sunday was such that Judge Gordon has ordered a special grand jury empaneled to investigate the misconduct which is reported to have occurred Sunday and the good people generally command his prompt action in dealing with the matter.

The people are entitled to peaceful deportment at church and other public gatherings and the authorities should deal severely with those found to be guilty of misconduct.

Plays Fast Ball.

Dawson and Princeton crossed bats on the former's diamond Sunday afternoon. The game was largely attended and much interest shown on both sides. The Dawson team was strengthened by our crack catcher, Leonard Goodloe, who played good ball, but the game was lost by the terrific batting of the visitors. The feature of the game was Goodloe's catching for Dawson.

Caught a Floater.

While Jodie Cunningham, the son of a fisherman living on the Ohio river four miles north of Mt. Vernon, was running his trot line Monday he felt a heavy weight about the middle of the line which he naturally supposed was a large fish. When he raised it carefully to the surface it proved to be the body of a negro man that had caught on one of the hooks. The boy hurriedly fished the line and pulled to the shore where he notified his father of the case. It is supposed the floater was Starling Boone who fell from the Wabash near that point last Friday.

Electric Light Plant of Hopkinsville Destroyed by Fire.

The electric light plant owned by the Hopkinsville Gas and Lighting Company was destroyed by fire Monday. The loss is $30,000, with $5,000 insurance. The origin of the fire is not known. There was no one in the building when it caught, and when the flames were discovered the roof was falling. The plant furnished lights for the city and in residence and business houses. The streets will be in darkness until the plant can be rebuilt, which will require probably two months.

Wanted the Train to Stop.

John Thompsons, a young man from Webster, Ky., arrested at the Seventh street depot in Louisville Monday night charged with carrying concealed deadly weapon, was fined $25 and sentenced to ten days in jail in Police Court this morning.

Thompson became angered because the officials would not let him board a fast train that did stop at Nortonville, and, it is said, opened his grip and placed a gun in his pocket with the apparent intention of enforcing his demands.

New Rural Routes for Kentucky.

Washington, May 28.—Rural free delivery routes ordered established in Bracken county, Ky., June 15; Brooksville, with four carriers; area covered eighty square miles; population to be served 3,017. Germantown, with one carrier; area covered eighteen square miles; population served 702. George A. Caldwell, appointed regular; Alvin R. Alphin substitute, rural carriers at Crittenton, Ky.

HORRIBLE DEED.

Sacramento Minister Uses Wagon Brake on His Son With Fatal Results.

MOB VIOLENCE GREATLY FEARED.

The Rev. W. W. Armour, of Sacramento, Ky., who killed his son, Marvin Armour, late Saturday by striking him on the head with a wagon brake, was arrested Monday and lodged in jail at Calhoun. He said that he struck the boy because he had left home and would not return, but did not intend to kill him. He expressed sorrow, and said that he was ready to pay the penalty, and would make no defense of any charge that might be brought against him.

Mr. Armour is about fifty years of age, and is a Methodist Episopal preacher. He came to Kentucky from Illinois ten years ago, and has lived in Sacramento four years. He tried recently to join the Cumberland Presbyterian church, but was refused admission because he demanded a license to preach.

On account of harsh and overbearing treatment Marvin left home about three weeks ago and was working on Barrett's farm when his father served notice that he must have his son's wages or he must come home. The boy said he would work free before he would go home. Armour said he would bring the boy home by force if necessary, so he went to Barrett's home and to the stable where the boy was doing the chores after the day's work and told him what he had come for. When the boy replied that he would not return he was knocked to the ground. As the boy fell he called for help and was hit again and then the father, it is claimed, picked up the unconscious form and dumped it into the buggy and lit out for Sacramento. He was pursued by Barrett, who got there as soon as Armour did and had a warrant sworn out for his arrest. The doctors were summoned but the boy died that night.

There was no one present at the time of the assault, but Mr. Barrett was in sight and came and asked the father to take him to the house, as he saw the boy was badly hurt. Armour was safely guarded the whole night. There is high feeling against him and talk of a mob. He was slipped out of the Calhoun jail Tuesday night and taken to Owensboro on account of a well grounded report that a mob had formed to lynch him.

A Good Rain Falls in Earlinton and Hopkins County.

A most welcome rain fell in this vicinity Monday night. It began about 11 o'clock and at first it seemed that a regular storm would result. The wind blew in fierce gusts and the rain fell in streams accompanied by heavy thunder and lightning. After the first heavy shower had passed over the rain fell steadily. The farmers have been wishing for rain for several days, claiming that all the crops needed the moisture, but more especially the clover and wheat. On account of the dry weather the wheat threatened to head out and ripen a little too early for making the best crop. The clover was also looking very bad on account of the lack of rain.

A World Beater.

The United States battleship Kentucky, made the world's record run for a warship from Hong Kong and Maderia to New York. The total distance steamed was 12,699 miles from Hong Kong at an average speed of 12.7 knots. The last run of 2,900 miles from Madeira to New York was made at an average speed of 13.8 knots. The whole distance was made under a natural draught.

The Kentucky has been in commission a little more than four years, and her first run was out to the China station. She has been the flagship of the squadron for three years, and has flown the flag of Rear Admiral Evans for more than two years.

"The Highest Right They Have."

The business Women's Club of Louisville, Kentucky, has been having a hot fight over the election of a president and other officers. Without going into the details of the controversy we may state that one faction in order to achieve its ends attempted to deprive the new members of the right to vote. The president, Mrs. James Buchanan, issued a statement in which occur these words: "Members of a day or any longer time cannot be deprived of the highest right they have, that of voting. What does a club or any other corporation amount to when a few ambitious members can get together at any time and pass resolutions cutting off any of their fellow members from the high and sacred right of voting?"

These are good words to come from the lips of woman, and it is to be hoped that the woman who used them and the women who endorsed them are logical enough to extend their application beyond the limits of the Business Women's C

Speaking of the situation the Courier-Journal said: "Both sides are lined up determinedly, and when the polls open at 10 o'clock workers for the two factions will be present. The voting will continue until 6 o'clock tomorrow night."

This sounds decidedly like politics, and what a very curious thing this "high and sacred right of voting" is. From 10 to 7 these women voted and no newspaper intimated that they ought to be at home, rocking the baby, no minister told them they were out of their sphere, nobody inquired as to whether their husband's sock had been darned, and no one told them they were degrading and unsexing themselves by exercising "the highest right of all, the right of voting." It seems that the act of voting is neither good nor bad in itself, and whatever character it may have is determined by the thing voted for.

It is all right for women to vote for a president of a club, but all wrong to vote for a president of the United States. They can stay away from as many hours as they please for a club election, but if they devoted one hour to a municipal election, our whole social fabric would crumble to pieces.

The Baptist woman prides herself on the fact that her church is a democracy, and that women vote there on equal terms with men. She votes as a Christian and a church member for the good of her church, but shrinks from the thought of voting as a Christian and a citizen for the good of her state. Yet this government is called a democracy. Women vote in all their organizations and for all manner of purposes, but they draw the line at voting for a mayor, a governor or a president.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than has ever been seen together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and with constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has now ascertained that it is a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., is the best and most effective constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the system and removes all parts of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. An Open Letter.

From the Chapin, S. C. News: Early in the spring my wife and I were in bed with severe pains that we called a physician who prescribed for us, but his medicines failed to give us relief. We then took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrheas Remedy on hand gave each of us a dose and we at once got rid of the effects of the medicine. We then took the bottle and before using the entire contents we were entirely cured. It is a wonderful remedy and should be in every household. H. C. Bailey, Editor.

This remedy is for sale by St. Bernard Drug Store, Earlington; Ben Robinson, Mortons Gap; John X. Taylor, Earlington.

Farmers Just Claim for Help.
cent-mill Hill, of Washington, recently called the agricultural committee of the Senate a sharp talk on the subject of good roads, and incidentally made a very strong point in rebuking the claim of farmers. In the movement for assistance, as far as he could be told, the Washington, cent-mill Hill, said the Washington, cent-mill Hill, the farmers are paying 80 per cent of the taxes, they are entitled to some relief in the shape of aid in road making. Of all people, the farmers are the least successful in escape from taxes. It is easy to assess his claim, there is no doubt he is correct. There is more than his share, when the amount he pays is compared with what others pay. It is nothing more, therefore, than plain justice that a class which bears so heavy a burden is entitled to consideration when it asks for help in the improvement of the ordinary roads, so indispensable for the comfort, advancement and prosperity of all the people.

Diverting a part of the public funds to the cause of good roads would, of course, bring benefits to the farmers in return for what they had paid in taxes. But perhaps greater relief would be afforded if the farmers were compelled to pay less in the shape of taxes. This relief could be given even if those now escape taxation were made to pay the same. The farmers would not find the burden so heavy if the railroads, for instance, were assessed as near their value as other property. If they were compelled to bear relatively as large a part of the tax burdens as the farmers bear, the farmers' taxes could be considerably reduced. So much money is required to run the government and the farmers are putting up more than their share of it - American Farmer.

Grazing.

Because of the immense value this plant should be given precedence in every garden. One acre of "usnea" will easily bring in more money than a large farm cultivated in other crops. True, to succeed, one must work and walk. There is an ever-ready market for the dried root at a fair price, and it should be the aim of every cultivator to grow the roots to be of large size for the dry market, as it will bring him better to do so than to sell his stock for nursery purposes unless fair price can be obtained, besides fair prices signify any commodity, causing it to be more eagerly sought after. The cultivation of ginseng like every other new enterprise, has had to go through the ordeal of "It can't be done," but it can be done and is being done every day. Those who a few years ago said it could not be done now say that the American ginseng will in a few years overstock the market, but no such cultivation need entertain any such fears while the wild root is bringing from $4.50 to $8.00 a pound; besides, the plant being of slow growth, it will require several years before the normal demand can be supplied. Again, as the crop increases in volume, it should decrease somewhat in price, thus making it possible to sell at a lower price in China, which would greatly increase the consuming market.

Discovered Tobacco Soil.

The most remarkable achievement of the bureau of soils of the department of agriculture was the discovery in Connecticut of soil identical with that on which is grown the famous Sumatra cigar wrapper. The Sumatra tobacco industry is now well established in Connecticut and as a result, the value of the land suitable for its production has trebled in value.

The same is equally true of certain tracts of land in some of the Southern states, where the soil experts have discovered land suitable for the cultivation of "Cuban filler" to be used in cigar making. This soil has increased in value over that formerly realized on the lighter tracts of Southern tobacco.

Soil surveys have pointed the way and trick lands of the Atlantic seaboard which formerly sold for $4.00 an acre now bring $200 an acre. Rice lands have increased in value in Louisiana from $5 to $50 an acre, and demonstration that certain Florida lands will produce pineapples has increased their value from a nominal sum to $500 an acre.

What Twenty Acres Will Do.

This man has a 20 acre field of land located near a good town and wants to know how best to use it. There are very large possibilities connected with such a tract and properly managed, it can be made to produce an income equal to that of many a quarter section farm run in the old and the common way. There is first and foremost, the possibility of securing an unlimited amount of the best of fertilizer at a low cost, and this means a high degree of productivity. Then extra help is available at special seasons, which is not always the case on the country farm. Such a tract can be made most profitable used on the line of market gardening, the growing of special crops, strawberries, small fruits, vegetables, etc., etc., especially tomatoes, herbs and early potatoes. While such a tract planted to corn would produce 1,000 bushels worth, say, $500 used in the manner suggested, it can easily be made to produce five times as much, or $2,500. Twenty acres is a large farm under an intensive system of agriculture.

Wild Onions Playing Havoc With the Farm Lands of Todd and Logan Counties.

A few years ago wild onions appeared in small quantities on some of the farms in Todd and Logan counties. No attention was paid to them at the time and the idea that they would ever prove detrimental to the ground was not conceived. Late years, however, they have gained considerable hold and the farmers are using every means to exterminate at the growth. In land where wheat is sown and these onions spring up in any quantity it utterly ruins the wheat and it for bread. The farmers of this section are considerably exercised over the matter.

Success is what the farmer wants, and the following rules will contribute immeasurably towards bringing it. Have a place for everything and keep everything in its place. When done using any tool or implement deposit it promptly in the place where it belongs. Study and plan to have as many conveniences around as possible. Exercise sociability and that with the neighbors, so that when help is needed it will be cheerfully rendered. Remember when anything needs fixing it should be done immediately. Padding is cheaper than an axletree. Replace all broken harness straps, snaps, cockeyes, buckles and especially the long lines of double teams when weak and likely to be torn apart when least expected. Never run any kind of machine a moment unless all bolts and bolt heads are in proper place. Keep all axes and other parts needing oiling well oiled on time. Take up every plank in the barn floor and every one that is weak and replace it with a sound one. Contract no debts of any size unless you know beforehand where the money is to be gotten to pay it when due. Even then it would be best, as a rule, not to make the debt. Be scrupulously prompt in everything. Never postpone anything until tomorrow that should be attended to today.

It is well known that there is a regular rise and fall in the price of eggs, which are highest about Thanksgiving to Christmas, and lowest about May and June. The high prices of early winter being due to the scarcity of eggs at that time, the ordinary farmer is bound to suffer from the effects of the moist and the bulk of pullets not having begun to lay. April is the best month for hatching the American, and May the best for the Mediterranean varieties. Six months of good steady growth will bring Plymouth Rocks and Wyandotte pullets to full maturity, and pullets of these breeds hatched in April will begin laying in October, and in November and December will be shelling out a full quota of eggs. Similarly Leghorns and Minorcas hatched in May will reward us if fed for growth.

The barrenness of the average farm doorway is a notorious fact in the country. But within the past few years the beginning of a change has come. Farmers here and there are beginning to realize the value of the ornamental part of farm life - the beauty part which has heretofore been out of sight in the garden struggle for life and dollars. Now that the land is gained and the delinquent are in the longing to "fix up things a bit" is uppermost. Set the vines around the porch and mass the shrubs together in two or three large beds at the sides of the yards. Cut the grass, fix up some neat walks - and you have laid the cornerstone of much future enjoyment.

raises and thus enables him to make his home more comfortable and beautiful for the woman who has stood by him in the short years and made the living for his children.

During the past few days there has been a pronounced rise in the price of corn, and coat cereal is now higher than it has been for many months. The ruling price now is fifty-five cents, which is five cents higher than it was a week ago. Just why the advance came is not known. There does not seem to be a scarcity of the grain, but the demand is good and this may account for the rise in prices.

Good Spirits.

Good spirits don't all come from Kentucky. Their main source is the laundry, and all the good spirits ever made in the Blue Grass State could not remedy a bad liver or the hundred-and-one ill effects it produces. You can't have good spirits without a bad liver at same time. Your liver must be in fine condition if you would feel buoyant, happy and hopeful, bright of eye, light of step, vigorous and sinewy. You can put your liver in fine condition by using Green's August Flower - the greatest of all medicines for the liver and stomach. It is a certain cure for dyspepsia and indigestion. It has been a favorite household remedy for over thirty-five years. August Flower will keep the liver healthy and active and thus insure you a liberal supply of "good spirits." Trial size, 25c; regular bottles, 75c. At all drugstores.

By transferring the dead body of a woman in St. Louis from a nonunion to a union coffin and dismissing a nonunion undertaker and the carriages he had provided the labor unions of that city nearly reached the limit. Eight months ago I was so ill that I was compelled to lie on sit down nearly all the time. My stomach was so weak and upset that I could keep nothing on it and I vomited frequently. I could not urinate without great pain and I used to say that my throat and lungs were raw and sore. The doctors pronounced it Bright's disease and that I was to die. I was given up. It mattered little to me what they called it and I had no desire to live. A sister visited me from time to time and said if I had ever tried Wine of Cardui I told her I had not and she bought a bottle. I believe that it is the best medicine I have ever taken. I have seen many women could save much suffering if they but knew of its value.

ABOUT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

When shall we go to the Fair? Where shall we stop when we do go?

These two questions are being asked of themselves by many people everywhere. And these questions will be answered in various ways and varying moods this week by thousands of local newspaper all over the land.

Last week was Press week at the Fair and newspaper representatives were there from all sections and from many foreign countries.

Great men and great newspaper editors and publishers sat in convention and exchanged ideas with the publisher of the small daily and the editor of the country weekly. Secretary of State John Hay was present as the personal representative of President Roosevelt. An English nobleman, Sir Hugh Gilzean Reid, occupied the chair as President of the Press Parliament. A Russian Prince, editor of a St. Petersburg daily, sat as an accredited delegate on equal terms with the country editor. It was a cosmopolitan and democratic gathering.

The story of the Fair will be told in many tongues and from many view points. The week began with a cold rain and was dreary. The distances and the incompleteness were exaggerated by weather conditions and some editors were at first inclined to go home with a blue cloud before their eyes.

But better weather and a prolonged stay and more intimate acquaintance with the actual condition of the exhibits overcame in large measure the less favorable impression of the earlier part of the week.

The Fair is not complete. There is much yet to be done. The visit of the Kentucky Press Association and the celebration of Kentucky Day have been postponed until the week of June 13th, on account of this unreadiness. But there is so much right now in perfect readiness that the trip is worth while and no one's time will be wasted who goes now. Most of the good things, the big things, are completely installed and are being enjoyed daily by thousands of people. The week in which Kentucky Day is to be celebrated will be an ideal time for Kentuckians to visit the Fair.

The question of where to stop has been settled in the mind of the publisher of this paper by the actual experience at this and at former expositions. The choice falls on the Inside Inn, for numerous reasons, the chief of which is that it is "inside." Rest in your own room is on tap for you whenever you get weary of sightseeing, and that without a long trip on crowded cars and without the necessity of paying two entrance fees into the Fair on a single day. The service at the Inn is good, the rooms comfortable and airy and easy to get out of. The rates are reasonable and include daily the entrance fee into the Fair. The Inn is operated upon a carefully arranged system and the management is wholly reliable and is officially endorsed by the World's Fair management.

There is more to be seen and enjoyed at the Fair now than any ordinary mortal can see and enjoy in a month's hard work. Kentucky Day, June 15, will be celebrated royally and that week will be best for Kentuckians.

The fellow who sits all day doing nothing and complaining that everything goes wrong and nothing goes right is the man who is really in hard luck, and he alone is responsible for this state of affairs. If you want to succeed in life stop knocking, stop meddling with other people's business and go to work. The man or woman who goes about town with a long face, complaining that times are hard, that the necessities of life are too high and envying their neighbors' good fortune only make themselves miserable and in no wise better their condition, financially or otherwise.

If you would have things nice in your home, if you would lay by something for a rainy day, if you would be happy, cheerful and contented, go to work, quit knocking and keep busy.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK.

"All good advertising is good, but some kinds are better than others," said Lucius M. Tully, the bank cashier of San Francisco.

"Carry out a definite policy of publicity, manfully telling the people who you are, what you are, where you are and what you can do for them."

"Many make the mistake of either scolding or preaching in advertising. Compiling figures on how much the individual would profit by smoking no cigars or by staying away from the theatre, seems too personal, and is not expected of us."

"As a rule, we must take the man who wants to save and tell him how, for after all, we don't get many unwilling savers upon our books."

"A booklet, brief and direct in its simple statement, furnishes the foundation for personal effort, either in your banking office or outside."

"In most cases savings banks must advertise to enable them long to continue a steady growth."

"In selecting newspapers for savings advertising, don't select one because it has the best financial circulation, but use those that circulate most largely among the general public."

"It is well to let one officer of the bank take the supervision of all advertising, having, of course, the counsel of his associates."

THE CLOUDBURST OUT IN WYOMING

Four Bodies of Drowned Persons Have Been Recovered in Cheyenne.

IT IS FEARED THERE ARE OTHERS, SEVERAL PERSONS BEING MISSING.

Those Known to Be Dead Were Caught in Their Beds by the Rushing Waters of Crow Creek, Which Sent Down a Wall of Water Six Feet High.

Cheyenne, Wyo., May 22.—Four bodies of persons drowned during Friday night floods have been recovered. They are:

Edith Sprout.
Charles Clayton.
Archie Clayton.
Harry Clayton.

It is feared there have been other casualties as a number of persons are still missing.

Two bodies were found at the foot of West Sixteenth street, near the river. They were asleep in bed when the flood came and were unable to get out.

Rain had been falling for 25 hours when the cloudburst occurred at four o'clock. Crow creek had been running bank full and when the lightning took place a wall of water six feet high came down the valley, sweeping ranch buildings, fences, corrals, haystacks and other movable articles in its path.

Five hundred people living in the lowlands along the creek in West Cheyenne were given no warning whatever until the water reached them. Many had waited for the night and fled without their clothing. A general alarm was sounded and hundreds of rescuers on horses and in boats were soon on work. In South Cheyenne 200 people live in the flooded district and a number are missing.

Searches were made and no bodies were found east and west of Cheyenne, and so far on the Union Pacific is seriously impeded. Telegraph and telephone lines are also down. The rain storm was the worst known in many years.

IN CACHE LA POUDRE RIVER.

The Flood Reached Greeley, Colo., Early Saturday Morning.

Greeley, Colo., May 22.—The flood in Cache La Poudre river caused by a water-pump in the foot of the mountains reached the city Saturday morning. The river is running bank full and is three feet higher than ever before since the town was established. All the bridges north of this place have been washed out. Strenuous efforts are being made to save the Union Pacific bridge here. No trains have arrived since Friday. A close watch is being kept on the river, but no bodies have yet been seen in the flood. It is reported that many cattle belonging to the Warren Live Stock Co., were drowned in the Lone Tree district.

RUNAWAY CAUSES DEATH

Injuries Sustained by Katy Lange Brought on Tetanus, Which Ended Fatally.

Effingham, Ill., May 23.—Katy Lange, 18 years, daughter of Tom Lange, and a member of a troupe of traveling players, died on an injury received in a runaway accident last Saturday afternoon. She, with a couple of friends, were out driving, and when the horses became frightened, Miss Lange jumped from the vehicle and received a compound fracture of one of her limbs.

HAS DESTROYED THE FILMS

Washington Police Make Quick Work of Moving Picture Schemers.

Washington, May 23.—Maj. Sylvester, of the police department, has announced that he had destroyed all the films of the moving pictures taken on day or two ago by theatrical parties on the east front of the capitol building when President Roosevelt was impersonated in the act of raising a fictitious negro into his carriage. The police authorities say that this close incident.

Returned to Life as Burglar.
Indianapolis, Ind., May 23.—Louis P. Schaeffer, driven from home by two children by a quarrel with his wife after a year's separation, has returned to his life as a burglar, only to fall from a widow and break his neck. His body was found in an alley under the window of a room he had looted.

Suicide by Hanging.

Laporte, Ind., May 23.—Mrs. Julius Conitz, wife of a Wanatah banker, whose fortune was wrecked by railroad speculation, and who went west and died in a hopeless effort to retrieve his lost fortune, has committed suicide at Wanatah because of a room he had looted.

Tacoma, Wash., May 23.—After gambling all of his personal effects, Tom H. H. a Nequean状的 Indian, staked his kachoochman and lost her. The authorities learning of the affair, forced the victor to return the wife to the husband.

Bull Fighters Leave.
Mexico City, May 23.—The bull fighters who were engaged to give performances at the St. Louis exposition have left here for their destination.

LOCOMOTIVE BLASTS

Sparks From Human Locomotives.
You must live within your income even if you have to borrow money to do it.—Artemus Ward.

The shadow of a trouble is always blacker than the trouble itself.—Elijah P. Brown.

You may lead a boy to college, but you can't make him think.—Mr. Dooley."

The success of all young men depends entirely upon their own ambition and abilities—together with good deportment.—Thomas Walsh.

There are some noble Christian men on railway service.—Signalman.

Bear in mind it is not so much what a man makes as what he saves that shows the best outcome.—L. N. R. R. Co.

It behoves us to see that our train of thought is well coupled together as we go steaming up and down the grades of life. A defect in the coupling may mean the parting of our train, and probable loss of treasured cars.—William J. Burtscher.

C. L. Gowdy, who has been in charge of the block signal station at Wabash Ave., Evansville, since its installation, has been transferred to Thackery, Ill., where he will have charge as operator and agent.

Fred S. Henrich, of Evansville, has accepted a position as yard clerk with Mr. Jones at Howell.

Workmen are engaged in the transfer of the Howell depot from the east to the west side of the new main tracks being built through Howell yard.

Fireman Chas. Stanfield, who has been off sick for several weeks, has returned to work.

Eng. Dock Stanfield has purchased a farm of 50 acres near Clarksville, Tenn.

Lead on the 200 acre farm of Dock Stanfield has been discovered $4 miles east of Bakers.

To avoid any accident that might happen between Henderson and the L. & N. depot, since the L. C. has been running over the L. & N. tracks, a pilot accompanies every train each way, says the Evansville Courier.

It takes some time for an engineer to learn all the switches when handling a train over a new route, and on this account the pilots are used. L. M. Rowe and Peter Cooper, both experienced engineers on the L. & N., are instructing the L. C. engineers through the yards into Evansville. One of the most important items of an engineer's knowledge is to know the switchers, and unless he does he might wreck his train. The block system will soon be employed and the new signal agents will be notified some time in advance.

You can never tell by the way a man plays ball how he would shovel coal into an engine.

Mrs. George B. Luton, of Nashville, has departed for New York City, where she has been called on important business.

Engineer P. W. Boxley is figuring on moving from Nashville to Earlington in the near future.

The convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has by unanimous vote passed a resolution requesting President Roosevelt to urge a decision by the postal investigating committee in the case of Third Assistant Postmaster General E. C. Madden, who is an honorary member of the order.

Fireman Frank Sheehan of the St. Louis Division is off on account of having been struck in the eye by a piece of coal recently.

Passenger engines 225 and 228 have been assigned to the Cincinnati Division. Engine 208 has been turned over to the Henderson and St. Louis Divisions.

It was a strange accident that befell fireman M. A. McAfee the other day at Mannington. He had finished putting a fire in engine 955 on train 60 and was in act of getting up in the cab when he stepped on a lump of coal and cramped his foot, so that he fell out of the gang way. He struck the ground in such a manner that his face was pretty badly scratched up, as well as being cut on the back of his head.

The American Railway association has adopted a new standard cipher code.

A colored box-car thief has been captured in Evansville.

Fred Rosenbush of the Rosenbush Cigar Co., of Cincinnati, Ohio, who is somewhat fond of machinery, while in Evansville last week on business availed himself of the opportunity to pass through the Howell shops. To see the various machines in operation was quite a feast for Mr. Rosenbush.

L. X. Beall, who used to run on the Henderson Division, and is now with the Southern at Princeton, was at Howell last Friday to see some of his old friends.

J. C. Coker, fireman, owing to having changed runs, has moved from McLeansboro to Shawneetown, where he will make his future home.

Wm. Morris of E. St. Louis, Ill., has been transferred to the Wabash Avenue flag station, Evansville, in place of Mr. Gowdy.

John Homes, switchman, in Evansville yards, had badly mashed several fingers on his right hand on the 17th while making a coupling.

Superintendent Jno. W. Logsdon was on the sick list a few days last week.

Engineer L. D. Huff was at Howell on business Monday.

Engineer Joe Fromme has returned from his trip around the world. He says he became homesick.

Freight conductor William Lehay has been promoted to a passenger runner on the St. Louis Division.

Louis Schaumburger, a wiper in the Howell round house, seems to be the victim of bad luck. On the first of the month he had one of his fingers cut off at the first joint while working around an engine, on account of getting it in a bolt hole. He had only recovered from this injury and returned to work when he was again laid up, this time by slipping while he was passing from the tender to the cab of an engine, and striking his head against a bolt.

Mr. Jno. W. Logsdon, superintendent of the Henderson and St. Louis divisions, who has been confined to his room for several days on account of a severe cold, is again able to be at his office.

A. B. McVay, superintendent of stations and buildings on this division, was here Tuesday on business.

Dispatcher W. K. Griffin, who has been acting chief during the absence of E. L. Wise and also worked a trich on the north end, has done well and deserves all the good things said about him by the railroad boys.

Omer Barbero, the young railroad man who was married to Miss Annie Coenen Tuesday morning, played a neat trick on his friends by driving to Mortons to catch 51 to avoid the deluge of rice, old shoes and slippers that were to be showered upon them.

Engineer Tom Porter was out on Locum Mary Tuesday trying his luck with the finny tribe. Nothing doing.
